

Other Published Writings

Welcome to a safe space for thinking and conversation. You can participate in two ways. One way is to comment on the blog posts themselves (indicated by the words "Read more" in the list below). The other way is by commenting on Charles's published writings (articles, interviews, reviews, etc.). These are indicated by the words "Read this article [or whatever] here," in the list below. Clicking on one of those links will take you to the published piece and the "Comments" link for it. You will find this a safe space for sharing your insights. We would love to hear from you.

Please note: While Charles is working on his new book, he is not able to post as much as he would like to. Also, if you comment, don't forget to tick the tiny box next to: ?Notify me of followup comments via e-mail.? Doing so lets you know automatically when Charles or someone else engages with your comment. It's easy to miss seeing that little box. And if you subscribe to this site (it's free), you will receive a brief email notice whenever a new article or blog is posted. (You can be confident that we will never disclose your email to a third party.) Thanks for stopping by.